

David Oliver

Before joining Henderson Logistics David held the position of National Procurement Manager Boral Timber after a career of 16 years with the Royal Australian Air Force, ultimately as Squadron Leader in Supply and Logistics.

David has considerable experience in all aspects of supply chain management, particularly in facility design, logistics support and process re-engineering to achieve fully integrated operations. His background includes system assessment and definition, activity based costing, project management and organisational structure development.

David also specialises in procurement, contract preparation, outsourcing strategies, transport, and warehouse operations. He has designed and constructed a variety of computer based financial management, purchasing/procurement, contract management and inventory systems. David has also co-ordinated numerous specification and tender processes for transport and warehousing.

David is a current member of the Logistics Association of Australia and holds a Bachelor of Economics Degree with majors in Law, Organisation and Industrial Relations and postgraduate studies in Law and Industrial Relations.
